Foreword

The thematic area of Child Labour was approved as an integral part of the SAIEVAC Five Year Work Plan (2011-2016) by the 3rd SAIEVAC Ministerial Meeting in June 2010. The Work Plan was further adopted by the 1st Governing Board Meeting in November 2010.

The SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat, the SAIEVAC National Mechanisms, the different national and regional partners and the South Asia Coordinating Group on Action against Violence against Children (SACG) focused on child labour during SAIEVAC's South Asia Follow Up Regional Consultation on Violence against Children (Colombo in May 2012). It dedicate a breakout session to discussions on child labour.

The following milestones present a dedicated effort to use the process of development of the Regional Action Plan as a means to support and promote coordination and cooperation with and amongst concerned agencies – horizontally and vertically as well as to create workable interfaces for smooth operations and exchange of information:

- The SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat initiated the mapping/review of Legal Framework/Policies pertaining to SAIEVAC thematic areas, including child labour.
- The SAIEVAC – ILO Memorandum of Understanding was signed on 28 August 2012 in Kathmandu.
- SAIEVAC's work was presented at the Second SAARC Tripartite Workshop on Child Labour, organized by the Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment and the V.V. Giri National Labour Institute in collaboration with the ILO in May 2013 in New Delhi.
- The Workshop on the UN Convention on Rights of the Child and ILO Child Labour Conventions - Towards greater coherence in reporting and action, organized by the ILO, in collaboration with SAIEVAC and the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary General on Violence against Children (SRSG VAC) in June 2013 at the ILO International Training Centre in Turin, brought together stakeholders from the child protection and child labour side. It included consultation on the South Asia Strategy against Child Labour.
- The Child Labour Strategy paper was presented to the 4th Governing Board Meeting in September 2013 in Bhutan.
- Draft Regional Action Plan presented to the 5th GB Meeting in Dhaka in August 2014.
- A draft project proposal, based on the Regional Action Plan was presented to SAIEVAC India in August 2015.
- An Expert Group Meeting was organized to review and finalize the draft Regional Action Plan, 8 and 9 December 2015 in Colombo.
- The final draft of the Regional Action Plan was tabled to the 6th Governing Board Meeting in March 2016. The Governing Board decided to provide additional time for feedback from the Member States and further directed the SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat to table it for launching at the 4th SAIEVAC Ministerial Meeting. However, due to various practical considerations the SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat deferred the launch to the Alliance SDG 8.7 South Asia Consultation.

From Colombo 2012 to Bhutan in 2016, the journey has been very exciting and productive. I take this opportunity to thank the SAIEVAC National Mechanisms for their continued support and guidance, the Ministries of Labour of all the Member States for their review and technical inputs, and the SACG – in particular the ILO, for the financial and technical support to the SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat to make the Regional Action Plan a reality – our work begins now!

Background Situation

Around the world, millions of children continue to be engaged in child labour, which deprives them of their childhood, their potential and their dignity, and which is harmful to their physical and mental development. Work that does not affect children's health and personal development and that does not interfere with their schooling, is generally not regarded as child labour but something positive. A child's age, the type and hours of work performed, the conditions under which it is performed and the objectives pursued by individual countries are factors that help determine whether a child's work constitutes child labour. The answer can vary from country to country.

More children are in child labour in the Asia and Pacific region than in any other region in the world. South Asia, as home to some half-a-billion children, the largest child population of any region, has among the largest number of children engaged in child labour and other forms of exploitation. Conservative estimates based on national surveys, put child labour in South Asia at about 17 million (5-17 year old); of these, over 10 million are 5-14 year age. Additionally, national statistics show vast numbers of "nowhere children," whose numbers are missing in statistics for children in education, in employment and in a combination of the two¹. Millions of these statistically termed "idle" children are likely to be devoured by child domestic labour, working long hours (12 hrs or more a day), with little or no pay, every day of the week, exposed to physical, sexual and psychological violence, and deprived of their rights to care, education, recreation, rest, and overall development. The consequences are long lasting, and they impair children's physical, emotional, and intellectual well-being, as well as the economic and social development of the countries in the region².

Child labour in South Asia includes child domestic labour, hazardous work in numerous occupations and processes, particularly in the informal economy in rural and urban settings, and in supply chains of a variety of products, including at times those that feed into the formal economy. Children are victims of, trafficking, bonded labour, sexual exploitation, and are even drawn into conflict situations. Even when systems are set up to protect children, they often lack the capabilities and reach to protect children from child labour.

The child labour issue needs to be addressed urgently. It is a complex issue and requires multi-stakeholder, multi-agency, coherent, well-coordinated and integrated approaches. The SAIEVAC Regional Action Plan for the Prevention and Elimination of All Forms of Child Labour is an multi-stakeholder attempt in that direction.

The Regional Action Plan for Prevention and Elimination of Child Labour

The Regional Action Plan is a guiding benchmark for minimum standards that are required to be put in place through national and regional action that is in line with international and regional instruments for ending child labour. As a regional strategic framework, the Regional Action Plan is not prescriptive in nature, but provides opportunities for the different SAIEVAC mechanisms to take their work forward in collaboration with other national and regional institutions and partners. The Regional Action Plan strengthens the development and implementation of the national and subnational initiatives, while taking into account national contexts, priorities and peculiarities.

1. Goal

The overall goal of the Regional Action Plan is to strengthen systems and institutional capacities to prevent and eliminate all forms of child labour, with a priority on the worst forms, and a special focus on the situation of girls and excluded or vulnerable populations. It contributes to ensure an end to violence against children in South Asia.

2. Approach and Methodology

5. Key Action/Strategies

All children in the South Asia region will benefit in some way from the implementation of the various policies, strategies and action advocated and implemented as a result of this Regional Action Plan, including through various project activities. The direct beneficiaries will be the children who are in the hazardous and non-hazardous employment and those who are vulnerable or at- risk of child labour. The Regional Action Plan will also contribute to enhancing institutional capacity as well as the capacity of government functionaries and practitioners at the local, national and regional levels. Furthermore, the Regional Action Plan will create a forum at the regional and national levels for children's voices, particularly on violence against children, including child labour. Capacity development initiatives under the Regional Action Plan will help generate a pool of policy makers and practitioners on child protection issues.

Some of the key action areas to be pursued will be through:

5.1 Legal Review and Reform and Policy Mainstreaming and Coherence

SAIEVAC will undertake regional mapping exercise to ascertain the situation of child labour in South Asia in relation to existing laws and policies. This will enable SAIEVAC and its partners to make informed decisions with regard to various legal reforms and policies required to mainstream child labour issues and concerns for integrated and coherent responses.

5.2 Evidence-based Advocacy and Campaigns

SAIEVAC is guided by its Regional Advocacy and Communication strategy for undertaking all advocacy and communications. With regard to its action on child labour, it will make efforts to collect evidence through both existing secondary sources as well new operational formative studies for strategic interventions. For this, the SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat will work closely with the national mechanism, NACG and other partners to identify key problems and issues heighten their awareness through advocacy and communication interventions.

5.3 Institutional Strengthening and Capacity Development

As evident from SAIEVAC's ongoing five-year work plan (2011-2016), institutional strengthening and capacity development is one of its key strategic pillars. In order to address this, SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat will undertake an institutional analysis and capacity assessment of both SAIEVAC Regional Secretariat and its partners to determine the extent and nature of institutional strengthening.

5.4 Knowledge Collection and Dissemination through Resource Centre

SAIEVAC will make efforts to enhance and further promote application of best practices and learning from experience by strengthening of cross-country exchange and sharing of resources related to child labour, lessons learned, expertise and human resources in support of improved child protection capacity building, advocacy, documentation and research.

5.5 Monitoring and Evaluation

Monitoring and Evaluation will involve the collection, analysis and interpretations of data related to the measurement of inputs, activities, outcomes and impacts. Monitoring, evaluation and feedback processes will look at the overall child labour problem/issues and ascertain if the interventions are likely to address the goal/objectives of the Regional Action Plan.

5.6 Networking and Partnerships Building

Networking and partnership building will be considered as an important element of the RAP on child labour and project interventions under it. In keeping with the existing SAIEVAC institutional mechanism and communication framework, SRS will actively collaborate with national mechanisms and a variety of partnerships, including the SACG, NACG, AFPPD, SAARCLAW and others to develop and implement projects and activities to achieve the goals set forth in the RAP.

6. The Expected Outcomes

The Outcomes of the RAP will include (but not be limited to) the following:

6.1 Effective enforcement of child labour related laws and policies in place.

6.2 Right to free, compulsory, accessible and appropriate education and skills training; linking of minimum age of employment with the age of compulsory education as a step to eliminate child labour realised.

6.3 Child labour issues are integrated into key regional and national development agendas and policies, ensuring comprehensive impact on the economic and social conditions leading to child labour.

6.4 Effective re-integration and social protection schemes are scaled up and multi-agency coordinated mechanism for effective convergence and coherence are in place to address child labour and the situation of children vulnerable to child labour and of their families.
